About

Thérèse Andersson Lewis is a Swedish actress and musical artist educated at the Theatre Academy's master's degree programme in acting in Stockholm and trained as a musical performer at the Ballet Academy in Gothenburg. She has performed widely in both theatre and musical productions across Sweden, noted for her powerful voice and dynamic stage presence.

Her stage credits include leading roles such as Eliza in My Fair Lady at GöteborgsOperan, Anne Egerman in Sommarnattens leende at Stockholms Stadsteater, Stephanie in Saturday Night Fever at Oscarsteatern, and Siv in Så som i Himmelen. More recently, she appeared as Tami and Gladys in Rain Man at Oscarsteatern. On screen, Thérèse has been seen in several popular television series and films, including Vårdgården, Karatefylla, and Surfarna, and currently features as Maud in OKQ8's long-running advertising series.

She was nominated for the Guldmasken musical prize in 2001 for her portrayal of Mimi in Rent at Göta Lejon. Alongside her acting career, she works as a voice actor and singer and has lent her voice to major dubbing projects such as Frozen and Mary Poppins.
